Hi friend,

Five years ago, I decided to become a scientific experiment.

+ I peed in cups
+ plucked my hair
+ ejaculated into containers
+ spit in tubes
+ ultrasounds, MRIs, oxygen tests
+ sequenced my genome
+ biopsied my skin
+ took 30,000 images of my bowels
+ collected my blood daily
+ measured my erections
+ scanned my bones
+ imaged my brain
+ quantified my lung capacity

…if it could be measured, we measured it.

We discovered my body was not one age, but hundreds of different ages. And we uncovered potentially life-threatening problems I didn't know existed.

For the prior 42 years, I had destroyed my body. I was an entrepreneur and father of three who didn't sleep. I was obese. Inflamed. My cortisol was shot. I was suicidal. Had lost my family and community.

I was on a fast track to death.

This is when Blueprint & Don't Die was born.

In 2022, when people were dreaming of superintelligence, I asked why we couldn't be the first generation who wouldn't die.

1. I built a team of longevity researchers and doctors
2. We examined thousands of scientific papers
3. The scientific evidence from the past 400 years
4. What keeps people alive and what leads them to die

Yes. It was possible. Behavior and consumption could dramatically extend lifespan.

So we turned it into a protocol.

We spent years designing an algorithm. It dictated what I should eat, when I should sleep, how I should move, and what molecules I should consume. Every decision, determined by science and data.

Across 2,000 days, we set out to reverse the decades of damage.

I rebuilt trillions of cells that make up my body.

Telomeres…muscles…cholesterol…gene expression…bones…nervous system…brain…lungs…sleep, all improved.

My body talked to my doctors. My doctors talked to my body. I fired my mind. I let the algorithm drive.

Five years later, I achieved the best biomarkers of anyone in the world. Becoming the healthiest person on the planet.

I shared everything for free.
+ my protocols
+ my data
+ how I sleep
+ how I train
+ how I eat
+ what worked
+ what failed...

But I discovered where most people struggled: food.

Humanity's food infrastructure is a trap. It's built to make us sick. Diet-related chronic diseases account for ~60% of deaths in the U.S.

I'd tell people about the importance of extra virgin olive oil… spermidine… fisetin… luteolin…

They'd respond:
+ How much?
+ From where?
+ What if they don't have a third-party lab report?
+ Your source doesn't ship to me?
+ It's sold out…

So I built it.

A stack of science's best longevity molecules.

I contacted hundreds of suppliers. Asked for testing protocols. Most failed. Some lied. Some cheated. I lost hundreds of thousands of dollars when shipments came back contaminated... after they were already on the boat.

I invested millions of my own money to construct a food system that didn't exist.

Blueprint is…
+ 60+ evidence based health actives
+ Delivered in the most compact format
+ Lowest cost on market
+ Extra virgin olive oil
+ A longevity drink
+ A health stack
+ Protein with 100% amino acid coverage
+ $14 a day
+ The best in the world

People called me a grifter. Whatever. They don't get it.

Thousands of people now follow the same molecular and behavior protocol I do.

+ Decades old problems, gone
+ Pounds shed
+ Energy restored
+ Sleep again possible
+ Mood lifted

Every day I get messages from people (and their loved ones), "this has changed my life."

That makes it worth it.

Be well,

Bryan
